THE TASKS

- Students will work in teams on a selected small urban area in Ostrava.
- The focus is on urban development and planning, rather than designing individual buildings.
- Students will develop proposals for small-scale urban structures, groups of buildings, public spaces, and development regulations.
- Each proposal will be evaluated based on population, gross floor area, public space availability and quality, and intensity of land use.
- Students will prepare basic financial estimates to assess the feasibility of their urban design proposals.
- The workshop introduces urban economics as a practical tool to evaluate and improve urban design.
- The specific site and project assignment will be finalized later, with the workshop structure adaptable to different locations.

EXPECTED OUTPUTS (PER TEAM)

- Problem map of the site
- Urban concept with variants
- Urban design of the area
- Regulation drawing (building lines, heights, plot coverage, public space)
